partners will offer information from the field. This experience will also provide an opportunity for student reflection and evidence for a Career Ready PA artifact. This event will take place on Friday, Nov. 5, at the high school from noon to 2 p.m. To become a community partner in this event, contact Dana Vermilya at dvermilya@iu17.org.

The annual guide is also taking events for next year. The events do not need to be detailed. They need to be submitted within a couple of weeks.

The Rialto Theatre will host Gabe Stillman, a Gibson Award Recipient whose hometown is in Williamsport. The event will take place at the Rialto Theatre at 7 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 5. Tickets will go on sale on Monday, Oct. 11.

Next on the agenda was the reflection on this year's motorcycle ride, with Frank Watson discussing the event that took place the last weekend in September. Watson noted that there were 81 riders signed up this year. He is seeking to make next year's event an AMA event, and plans to schedule the event the same weekend as the Pumpkin Festival, which is the first weekend in October. This is planned to hopefully get more people not only browsing around at the festival, but sign more riders up for the adventure ride. This year's event he said raised roughly $2,400 for local charities.

Eric Schoonover noted that for the Halloween parade, costume judges are needed. Please contact him for more information or to sign up. The Halloween parade will be Saturday, Oct. 30, at 5 p.m.

As of currently, there are no set plans for Light Night or Small Business Saturday. Those items will be discussed further at next month's meeting. The Christmas raffle will be dependent on what the plans are for those events.

The next Canton Chamber of Commerce meeting will be Thursday, Nov. 4.

Alba News

It saddens me to have to start out once again reporting on yet another act of vandalism done to the Alba Community Park. We (Borough Council) can't even imagine what possessed these criminals to do the destruction to a picnic table and other items. We are proceeding with several security angles and fully intend to prosecute the people responsible to the fullest extent of the law. If anyone knows who may be responsible for doing these acts of destruction, you can call Alba's Mayor, Dale Palmer at 570-673-8871, or me, Councilman, at 570-673-3649 and your name can remain anonymous.

On a much better note, I want to thank everyone for a highly successful bazaar and bake sale that was held at our Alba Church last Saturday, sponsored by the Alba Christian Women's Fellowship. Despite pouring rain most of the day (we got 2 inches at the house) it was a nice, steady crowd of shoppers. The hot items to buy were the home-canned goods, bake sale items, and the heavily loaded Angel Treasure tables. Our Ladies' group decided that we would forego the luncheon this year for several obvious reasons, and instead offered a free snack and beverage and a chance to sit and chat a bit. All in all, that, too, was deemed a success. Thanks everyone for your continued support allowing us to "pay it forward."

Congratulation to the Fassett Grange members that received milestone membership awards recently. Folks received recognition for decades of participation to what appears to some to be a dying fraternity. However, our Minnequa Grange is dedicated like Fassett is to try and keep things going.

Ron and I were joined by Lois Myers and we attended the "drive thru" Harvest Supper sponsored by the Roaring Branch Methodist Church. It was great! So quick, no hassle, and delicious indeed. And it was a welcome relief from cooking supper Saturday night after our tiring day running the bazaar.

Trick or Treat for Alba Borough kids is scheduled for Saturday Oct. 30, from 6 to 8 p.m. If you wish to participate, turn on your porch light. And we're asking everyone to be careful, and be safe.

Election is Tuesday Nov. 2, held in the fellowship hall of the Alba Church for Alba Borough registered voters.

The Alba Church harvest supper is Thursday Nov. 4, starting at 4:30 with the usual roast pork and all the trimmings. Adults are $10, youth 12 and under is $5 and preschool is free. Takeouts available by calling 570-673-8262.

Parent donates books to Croman class

A parent from the Troy Area School District donated a hard cover copy of Green Eggs and Ham by Dr. Seuss to each Kindergarten student. His name is Mr. Timothy Bruce, and this was his favorite book as a child.

she said.

The maze leads participants through to find animals set in two, as well as some farming facts and farm jokes.

"They know they've completed the maze when they come out from underneath the rainbow. If you're just trying to get through the maze, it's about 20 minutes. I think for someone to fully enjoy it and find all of the animals, it can take up to 45 minutes to an hour," said Miller.

There is a 12-foot lookout to view all of the maze in one spot.

"This is the first year we have opened for four weekends, to accommodate people's schedules," said Miller, who noted they also held private parties, such as preschools this year as well.

Now, the maze is in its last week of the year, weekend #4, which will also be the weekend for the glow night, Saturday, Oct. 23.

mask mandate is hard on everyone and to please be respectful to others.

Joan Terry began public discussion about how the school board is able to fight the mask mandate.

Next, Cathy Asbury addressed the board with her concerns of agendas in school curriculum as well as the mask mandate, and the germs accumulating from wearing it all day long.

Angie Hess spoke next, reviewing her experiences with her child, who is currently in the CAVE program. Her concerns were about the math curriculum, and how she feels students need to be challenged more.

Following Hess was Teresa Allen, who spoke about contract tracing and her concerns as a mental health therapist when she sees students who have been Painted pumpkins will be for sale. They were painted by Miller's aunt,

"You come in your absolute most festive gear that's glowing," said Miller, with examples of flashlights, headlamps, glow sticks and more. "We also hand out glow sticks for everyone to go into the maze in. Usually, you see all sorts of crazy sunglasses and tall hats all decked out, with flashing lights."

The corn maze will be open Friday, Oct. 22, from 1-9 p.m., and Saturday, Oct. 23, also from noon-9 p.m.

There will also be food for sale, pumpkins for sale and a soy bean pit for children to play in.

Cost for the event is $10 for adults and $5 for ages 4-18. Ages three and under are free. The cost for admission also includes a hay ride. Cash only is accepted.

Miller's Corn Maze is located at 931 Soper-town Road in Columbia Cross Roads. For more information, check them out on Facebook or go to www.millerscornmaze.weebly.com.

Other news

Commissioner Miller wanted to thank those who helped make the last race of the year a success. The last race, the Sheshequin Half Path, from Sayre to Towanda, took place on Saturday, Oct. 2.

"It was a great event. I want to thank everyone for all their hard work," said Miller, who noted the slideshow of photos behind Commissioners.

All proceeds from the event went to the local Walk for our Buddies non-profit.

Commissioner Miller also reminded motorists in the county to drive safely in municipalities, and to pay attention at cross walks and intersections. He noted that a Sayre resident, William Snyder, was hit twice while crossing the street on his scooter in Sayre. Snyder is fine, but is now seeking help in buying a new scooter.

The next Bradford County Commissioners meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 28, at 10 a.m.

because sometimes you'll get an infection and then the bone won't heal."

Decker said the reason for the state's change is that every state is different when it comes to what can and cannot be on an ambulance.

He also noted that 20 percent of the fractures they see that receive the treatment later on (after the ambulance ride) develop osteomyelitis, an inflammation or swelling that occurs in bones, usually due to an injury, such as a motor vehicle accident. Bone ends don't heal as well when they become infected. Osteomyelitis is more common in younger children (five and under) but can happen at any age.

Because of WA carrying antibiotics in the ambulance now, this won't be a problem, as the patient will receive the antibiotics sooner which will lessen the infections that develop by prolonging the antibiotic treatment.

Cefazolin is given as an infusion into a vein. In this case, the dose will be given by a paramedic in the ambulance on the way to the hospital. The antibiotics must be given slowly, and the infusion can take at least 30 minutes to complete.

Decker says he sees cases that need this medication about a dozen times a year, but the numbers could be higher for the county as a whole. Western Alliance does not just cover Troy and Canton, though, and Decker says he makes almost routine trips to Mansfield, Blossburg, Liberty and Roaring Branch.

"It's really important to get the antibiotics in as quick as we can," he said, noting the distance of some local hospitals.

The cost for this service will be paid for by Western Alliance and will officially be available on Nov. 1.

The staff has had to do training for this service and follow specific protocols to be ready for the deadline.

Western Alliance Emergency Services is located at 129 Canton Street in Troy. For more information, call the office at 570-297-1755.
